OUR WORLD OF VARIETY

As one gazes on our physical world, its green fields, hills, and landscapes, one recognizes differences. Also in shrubbery, foliage, blooms, blossoms of flowers, both wild and domestic. Their fragrance, colors and habitation. Earth's surface will differ in composition and even in color. There also is a variation in layers and strata of earth. The rock, slate, gold and even the black hard coal. Birds and fouls of many kinds, some with dull feathers, others with brilliant plumage. One sees animals of many species, large and small, some even walk erect like man, while others travel on fours. But man is the crowning piece of God's kingdom. He also makes the world of varieties. The Law of Variation is fundamental; it's the law in Nature's Law. The heavens are full of stars. They differ in size and brilliancy. But they are close together, even clusters, but all have sockets, and move in their respective sphere or orbits. The stars obey Nature's Law. No Stalining or St. Peter's House Top Pigeon flight of the sheet of different four-footed beasts will not change him from a Jew to a Gentile, but fitted him to live in a world of different people. People may differ, but no need of hostility. One's territory stops where the other fellow's begins. Our great country is founded on variety and tolerance, as well as anything else. Made up of different races and nations, with different traditions and customs, differences in the profession of religious practices. But we developed Magna Charter, Christ's Mountain Sermon, have saved this Variety so far.

SUGGESTS JAIL TERMS

Jurors in the Lynchburg, Campbell area are being urged to 'treat jail-house as a remedy' for reckless and drunken driving. Judge Charles E. Burks declared from the bench in Lynchburg recently in opening the July term of the corporation court.

Telling the newly empanelled grand jury that he was alarmed at the mounting toll of traffic deaths, Judge Burks said he was 'appealing' to juries to try sentencing guilty violators to jail, regardless of the financial or social position of the defendants."

"To say that sending such drivers to jail does no good is personified poppycock," the judge declared.

Pointing to the 336 accident deaths of the July Fourth week-end, 219 of them the result of automobile mishaps, the Judge likened the toll to that of a 'scourge of some dreadful disease.'

'If there was a scourge or plague raging through the land that took 219 lives over the week-end, we'd quarantine those who were afflicted with the disease,' he said, 'and keep them quarantined until they were cured. That is the remedy resorted to blot out plagues. We have an epidemic of traffic violations and by the analagous quarantine remedy, accidents can be lessened. . . sending the driver to jail will lessen the evil."

Drive Next Week to Collect Aluminum for Defense Industries

Canvas Planned, but Public Urged to Make Sacrifice and Bring Aluminum to Bin Here

PROCLAMATION

To the Citizens of Appomattox: Next week, July 21 to 26, is the week set aside by the National Government for the collection of Aluminum to further the defense program. The Town of Appomattox is preparing a bin to be placed between the Bank of Appomattox and Hudgins' store, where you may place your gift of Aluminum during any day next week, and the Board of Supervisors has arranged for its overnight storage. The Boy Scouts will make a house- to house canvas starting Wednesday in the town. As Mayor of Appomattox, I sincerely trust that our people will do their patriotic duty in this critical hour in our country's history.

C. S. McDEARMON, mayor

ALUMINUM COLLECTION IN THE PAMPLIN AREA

The collection of aluminum in the Pamplin area will be made on Friday, July 25th. The Pamplin town truck will make a canvas of the town and a 5 mile radius of Pamplin, we are informed by Stuart Farrar. If you live in this area, have aluminum ready when Mr. Farrar calls, or see that it reaches him.

Richmond, July 15.- Response of eight regional defense counells and the press of Virginia to the aluminum scrap collection campaign starting July 21 is most gratifying, says General James A. Anderson, co-ordinator of the Virginia State Defense Council.

'Virginians have demonstrated a splendid patriotism whenever asked to make sacrifices, and I am confident they will contribute aluminum scrap for national defense purposes,' General Anderson stated.

'At this moment the first necessity is to complete the campaign organization in every city, town, and community in Virginia,' he continued. Given leadership and a patriotic motive, Virginians never have failed to do their part in any national undertaking. Let us get down to business and do this job in a big way. Then everyone connected with the Statewide campaign will feel that Virginia has added to her laurels.

'Virginia took the lead in numerous defense aspects among the States in the Union. We can't afford to fall down now. If every household gives something in the way of aluminum scrap, the result achieved would be magnificent."

Remember the campaign for the collection of aluminum for the defense program NEXT WEEK ONLY. You may bring your gift of aluminum to a special collection bin to be installed Monday on the small lot next to the Bank of Appomattox, or Boy Scouts will call at your home. Do your patriotic duty!

Next week, July 21 through 26, the people of Appomattox county, and all the people throughout America, are asked to make a definite sacrifice to further and speed up the defense program. THEY ARE ASKED TO GIVE ALUMINUM IN ANY AND EVERY FORM. THE QUOTA FOR VIRGINIA IS ONE-SIXTH OF A POUND FOR EACH MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD, 400,000 POUNDS FOR THE STATE.

Arrangements for the drive in Appomattox county were made at a meeting of county organizations held here Tuesday night.

IN THE TOWN OF APPOMATTOX, THERE WILL BE A HOUSE TO HOUSE CANVAS, TO START WEDNESDAY. A Committee of ladies will make a preliminary canvas Monday to explain the campaign, and urge people to make a thorough search of their premises and assemble aluminum. There will be a bin in the small lot next to the Bank of Appomattox, and you may place your aluminum there, and it will be safely stored nightly until trucked to the smelters and turned over to the government.

In the town of Pamplin, and for an area five miles around Pamplin, Stuart Farrar will head a committee making a canvas NEXT FRIDAY.

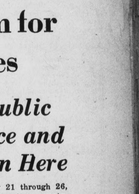
Robert Craig heads a special committee of Nogo, worker a

In the rural sections of Appomattox county, residents are urged to take aluminum to home demonstration club presidents, to community stores, or else to bring it out to the above mentioned bin in Appomattox.

REMEMBER: This drive is for one week only! Uncle Sam wants Aluminum NOW. It has a thousand defense uses.

DEMOCRACY CAN'T WIN WITH WORDS OR BY SINGING 'GOD BLESS AMERICA!' WE ARE ALREADY LATE, BUT NOT TOO LATE IF YOU MAKE A SACRIFICE NOW! WE WANT TO GIVE OUR DRAFTED BOYS TOOLS AND MACHINES! HERE IS OUR CHANCE!

Let us make up a patriotic offering of 1,500 pounds of ALUMINUM in Appomattox!!!!



Mrs. G. A. Coleman's Death

We have been notified of the death of Mrs. G. A. Coleman, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Kash, of Lynchburg this morning. Mrs. Coleman was the last surviving member of the late Dr. W. H. Abbitt's family. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Commenting on the campaign beginning July 21 and ending July 29, for the collection of aluminum scrap General James A. Anderson, co-ordinator for the Virginia State Defense Council, said:

'Here is a job for every family in Virginia. The free gift of aluminum is one item of interest in our nationwide civilian defense program. Every householder is thus given the opportunity to make a contribution to the nation's welfare.

'Undoubtedly the bulk of the aluminum will be donated in cities, towns and other civic unit communities. But on every farm may be aluminum scrap which can be found useful for this collection. Virginia farmers may find they have aluminum scrap in closets. . . items which have been forgotten.

'I believe the campaign will prove successful, for the good people of Virginia yield to no section of America when a call for patriotic endeavor is sounded.'
